Meeting of Member Country Productivity Commissions

Two roundtable panel sessions to discuss and share experiences among different productivity commission institutions. This session will explore the different set-ups and remits of the commissions, and the practicalities and logistics of how a commission operates. What are the steps a commission can take to positively impact policymaking, and what are the challenges and successes that have been experienced by the different commissions?

Chair and Q&A Moderator: Jens Lundsgaard, Deputy Director, Science, Technology and Innovation Directorate, OECD and Dan Andrews, Head of Division, OECD Economics Department

Two panels:

- Carlo Altomonte, Professor of Economics of European Integration, Bocconi University & CNEL - Italian Productivity Commission
- Alessandro Turrini, Head of Unit, Directorate-General for Financial and Economic Affairs, European Commission
- Rodrigo Krell, GFP Co-Chair and Chief Economist, National Commission for Evaluation and Productivity, Chile
- Juan Francisco Jimeno, Adviser, Bank of Spain (Productivity Council, Spain)
- Catherine de Fontenay, Commissioner of the Productivity Commission, Australia
- Bart van Ark, Professor, The Productivity Institute, University of Manchester
